RUPES Bigfoot Polisher LHR15ES 15mm, 500w

The \varnothing 15 mm orbit and the RUPES® 125 mm backing pad make the random orbital polisher particularly suitable for curved surfaces. The 15mm orbit of the LHR 15ES, shorter than that of its big brother the LHR 21ES, is coupled with a higher rpm level than that of the LHR 21ES. This higher speed gives the LHR 15ES equivalent cutting power to the LHR 21ES, in spite of the smaller orbit. \varnothing 130/150 mm BigFoot polishing foam pads, perfect balance and vibration-free operation make the LHR 15ES a real gem and a must for the tool kit of every detailer.

Hold the can: Hold the can 8 to 10 inches away from the surface and spray in a sweeping motion, overlapping each pass slightly to avoid missed spots or drips.

Apply multiple thin coats: It's better to apply several thin coats instead of one heavy coat to avoid drips and runs. Allow each coat to dry completely before applying the next.

Osmosis is a phenomenon in which water penetrates the hull of a yacht, causing it to blister and weaken over time. This occurs when water diffuses through the gelcoat and layers of the hull, causing the fibers to absorb water and expand.

If you suspect osmosis, have a professional assess and treat the problem as soon as possible to prevent further damage.

TOP TIPS

Repairing an inflatable boat or fender using glue can be a straightforward process, but it's important to follow the proper steps to ensure a successful repair.

- 1. Clean the damaged area: Before you start the repair, make sure the damaged area is clean and dry. Use a mild soap and water to clean the area, and then wipe it dry with a clean cloth. It's important to remove any dirt, debris, or oils from the area to ensure the glue will bond properly.
- 2. Roughen the surface: Use sandpaper to roughen the surface around the hole. This will create a better surface for the glue to adhere to.
- 3. Cut the patch: Cut a patch that's slightly larger than the hole. The patch should be made from the same material as the inflatable boat or fender.
- 4. Apply the glue: Apply a thin layer of glue to the patch and the area around the hole. Make sure to use a glue that's specifically designed for inflatable boats or fenders. Follow the instructions on the glue package for the recommended drying time.
- 5. Apply the patch: Carefully place the patch over the hole, making sure to smooth out any wrinkles or air bubbles. Press down firmly on the patch to ensure a good bond.
- 6. Allow the glue to dry: Let the glue dry completely before using the inflatable boat or fender. This may take several hours or overnight, depending on the type of glue you're using.
- 7. Test the repair: After the glue has dried, test the repair by inflating the boat or pressing on the fender. Make sure the patch is securely bonded and that there are no leaks.

TOP TIPS

When it comes to yacht painting, abrasive papers play a crucial role in achieving a smooth and flawless finish. Here are some tips to keep in mind:

Choose the right grit: The grit of the abrasive paper you use will depend on the type of surface you're working on and the degree of abrasion needed. Coarser grits (40-80) are best for rough surfaces, while finer grits (120-320) are ideal for smoothing out imperfections.

Use the right technique: When sanding, make sure to apply even pressure and use a circular or back-and-forth motion. Avoid applying too much pressure, as this can create uneven spots and cause damage to the surface.

Keep the paper clean: Abrasive papers tend to clog up quickly, so it's important to keep them clean to ensure optimal performance. You can do this by periodically tapping the paper on a hard surface or using a cleaning stick to remove debris.

Use quality abrasive papers: Cheap abrasive papers may save you money upfront, but they tend to wear out quickly and may not provide the desired results. Invest in high-quality papers from reputable brands to ensure long-lasting performance and a flawless finish.

By following these tips, you can ensure that your yacht painting process is smooth, efficient, and results in a beautiful, long-lasting finish.
